Global Human Capital Report

Everyone everywhere is operating in a hyper-complex environment. Most students and workers are not being adequately prepared with either the hard skills or the soft skills they need to be successful. Soft skills are key to the future.

Most of today's education systems are already disconnected from the skills needed to function in today's labor markets and the exponential rate of technological and economic change is further increasing the gap.

The Global Human Capital Report 2017

Preparing people for the future of work

FORBES ON EDUCATION

“No field operates more inefficiently than education. A new breed of disruptors is finally going to fix it.”

SOFT SKILLS – COUNSELING COMPETENCIES

These are the key skills for:

- Post-conventional, transcultural and world-centric societies capable of solidarity and acceptance of the weakest.
- Organizations capable of operating according to systemic models of partnership, collaboration, creativity
- A Scientific Community that works from an integral standpoint and extends its jurisdiction to the completeness of the human experience
- Flexible labour force able to cope with the rapidity of socio-environmental changes
- Conscious and compassionate human beings capable of responding to problems effectively and competently
- Teachers skilled in emotional and interior competencies and able to foster an understanding based on insight, the development of creative potential and the most genuinely human qualities.
- Individuals inclined to service and participation, prone to interconnection and synergy, ready for mutual understanding, conflict resolution and management of common resources.

KEY COMPETENCIES

Ubiquity Accreditations

As a global institution, Ubiquity University has awarded over 300 degrees and is not accredited by any single state or nation. We are a member of the Global Accreditation Council which seeks to establish a new standard for universal education dedicated to regenerative ecological, social and spiritual principles. The Global Accreditation Council is based in The Hague. The Global Accreditation Council represents the next level of global accreditation. The Global Accreditation Council is the first accreditation body to mandate environmental commitment among its member institutions. Accredited members are required to embrace and have courses in regenerative action to empower human communities and enhance ecological renewal. The Council is using the Online Learning Consortium's Quality Scorecard for continual review, assessment and improvement. The Council mandates that participating institutions demonstrate both academic excellence and a commitment to empower students to link knowledge about the world with action in the world to solve global challenges.

Ubiquity Accreditations

Accredited universities all over the world are recognized as accredited by other universities. However, no university is obliged to accept a degree from any other university and no university is obliged to accept transfer courses. Even if a university accepts a student, they seldom accept all the courses the student seeks to transfer, especially for students transferring from one country to another. It is always a negotiation. By providing students with a detailed portfolio of all the competencies they demonstrate, with links to evidence, we believe Ubiquity is giving students the best possible chance of having their degree accepted by another university.

THE METHODOLOGY

Free from the past, rooted in the present, ready for the future

The Methodology

The Biotransenergetics path is suited for anyone who wants to start a journey towards a more profound discovery of one's own true nature...

The Transpersonal Movement

For several decades now, a new school of thought has been developing in various fields of knowledge, particularly within the worlds of psychology and pedagogy, in medicine and in ethno-psychiatry, in anthropology and in the arts. Supported by the new discoveries in modern physics, by researches on the states of consciousness and ancient spiritual traditions based on meditation, this movement deals not only with the individual's problems, but – most importantly – with the individual's potentialities and higher qualities.

This is the Transpersonal Movement, founded on the premises of the new science and ancient traditions, as well as on what Bohm defined as “an understanding of a new order”, as the result of mastering one's own inner experience, arisen from insight.

During this explorative path, the Transpersonal Movement integrates the experience of Western scientific thought with ancient traditions based on meditation. In addition, the Movement encompasses shamanic practices based on ecstatic experience and on the direct contact with the forces of nature.

SOFT SKILLS IN ACTION

The Methodology

The Biotransenergetics path is suited for anyone who wants to start a journey towards a more profound discovery of one's own true nature...

The Integral Vision

In ancient times, the human being's primordial yearning to comprehend nature and harmonize with it created the first "religions of nature", according to which there exists a "fundamental unity of creation".

This is a vision of the integral "original" world, which is of an ecstatic order and according to which the mineral, vegetable, animal and human worlds, as well as the subtle world of spirit and divinity, exist one inside the other and one for the other.

The term Integral derives from the Latin integrum, a term composed of in, which stands for non, and of tan-gere, which stands for touch: to not touch, to whom nothing has been removed, to whom nothing is lacking; that which is whole, pure, or uncorrupted.

Thanks to its scientific development, humanity has made progresses that weren't even remotely imaginable in the pre-scientific era. However, due to its development, it has chosen to abandon its integrity, it has been corrupted, it has needed to remove and to become contaminated/impure.

The very emphasis on self-knowledge has been derailed to the knowledge of instruments, as well as from learning how to know/experience, to knowing the other from oneself. From teaching oneself to know oneself, to transmitting knowledge without teaching how to obtain it.

SOFT SKILLS IN ACTION

The Methodology

The Biotransenergetics path is suited for anyone who wants to start a journey towards a more profound discovery of one's own true nature...

The Transpersonal Movement aids in returning to one's original values, which have been lost along the road of hastiness and urgency, of mania [delusions of grandeur] and ignorance, greed and presumption. The Integral Vision takes on the Christic Medice cura te ipsum and the Socratic γνοθισεαυτόν, know thyself. Moreover, the teachings of the seven wise men [Ancient Greece 620 BC and 550 BC], dating back to the religious tradition of Delphi, resonate with the Integral Vision: "Too much of nothing, great is the measure, do not seek the impossible, know who you are and do not presume to be more than who you are, do not offend the deity by pretending to be like God."

Since it is not identified with scientific thought and an epistemology that focuses only on matter and, consequently, the "contact with the divine", today the Integral Vision can be considered the repository of the ancient "original tradition".

On the contrary, the Integral Vision operates affirms the new science and a new epistemology based on the mastery of the inner experience, as well as participation and sharing. Moreover, through the Integral Vision, one does not neglect the highest and genuinely human qualities such as love, compassion, awareness, responsibility, trust, acceptance.

In fact, it should be noted that having an integral approach does not mean doing "everything a little", as many often believe. Nor does it mean practicing a set of integrated techniques. Instead, it suggests having a unified vision, a vision that is expressed through a modus operandi, which is able to recognise and teach to realise the creative potential and the evolutionary thrust that every event, crisis, symptom, problem or suffering contains in itself.

SOFT SKILLS IN ACTION

The Methodology

The Biotransenergetics path is suited for anyone who wants to start a journey towards a more profound discovery of one's own true nature...

Biotransenergetics

The discipline of Biotransenergetics is a poetic act, whose intent is to teach to recognize the sacredness of the creative impulse of life in all its manifestations, as well as to conform to its laws.

Biotransenergetics proposes a methodology based on inner experiences, exploration of the dimensions of consciousness and on participation and sharing. Its intention lies in the realisation of awareness, which is disclosed in the most authentic dimensions of the heart, beyond the thought processes of the ordinary mind. An integral and transpersonal therapeutic model is oriented to the realization of the self, making one able to intervene effectively in the processes of transformation of consciousness.

The Content

The content is derived from the phenomenological experience of different states of consciousness and Biotransenergetics allows us to access these participatory or hands-on inner experiences. We define participatory inner experience as a set of personal experiences such as feelings, moods, emotions, feelings, desires, needs, thoughts, memories, images, intuitions, and transpersonal experiences such as extra-sensorial perceptions, spiritual, mystical, ecstatic experiences, archetypal visions, mythological dreams, revelations, insights, openings of the heart, non-ordinary states of consciousness, near-death experiences, and so on.

The Biotransenergeticss path is suited for anyone who wants to start a journey towards a more profound discovery of one's own true nature...

The Process

With Biotransenergetics, the Transpersonal Counselor and the Counselor Trainer acquire skills to accompany the client or student by means of learning a theoretical framework and a body of transpersonal practices, which derive from spiritual disciplines such as meditations, chants, dances, psychophysical and breathing exercises, ritual ceremonies, visualizations, etc. This long process allows the student into an initial exploration of one's inner world manifested through sensations, emotions, perceptions without apparent meaning. Moreover, it leads to the investigation and gradual release from one's personal history, passing through experiences of radical transformation and by accessing the transpersonal dimension, the place of spiritual qualities and "true nature".

The Context

The Transpersonal Context denotes the framework used to read the events through the transpersonal lens.

The recognition of the transpersonal context coincides with the recognition of the true nature of the individual, which is always independent of the personality, unconditioned by biographical history and, instead, has to do with the "descent of the spirit on the plane of material reality", or with the emergency in the "individual psyche of an archetype from the collective unconscious".

BTE ZERO

To whom is it addressed?

Ways of thinking

The difference that makes the difference

- Thinking: creating beliefs
- Wishful Thinking: being guided by beliefs
- Critical Thinking: making beliefs coherent with evidence
- Lateral thinking thinking: restructuring beliefs with creativity.
- Intuitive Thinking: Bypassing beliefs
- Conscious thinking: Observing beliefs
- Integral Transpersonal Thinking: Observe the contents of the
- Organismic self, the state of consciousness, the data of the external
- world and of the field.

TRANSE LEARNING

A Further Mode

Theory/Practice: here and now and all around

TRANSE LEARNING

Transe Learning is an integral teaching methodology capable of creating the conditions for insights, for the understanding of a "new order". This was considered by the ancient traditions of humanity as the only way for an authentic knowledge, which is realised through the whole body, within the cells, as well as in the emotions and in the mind. A teaching that is reached through the mastery of the "felt sense", [the awareness of proprioceptive signals, from kinaesthetic to visceral], the ability to pass through pain and wounds [personal emotional history, empathic identification]. ITI-SSLS integrates the learning design of UU [facts, self-mastery, impact] with the corpus of the BTE maps, models and practices, of the integral thought and the wisdom of the ancient traditions of humanity.

A FURTHER MODE

Theory/Practice
here and now and all around

TRANSE LEARNING

Self soft skill in action

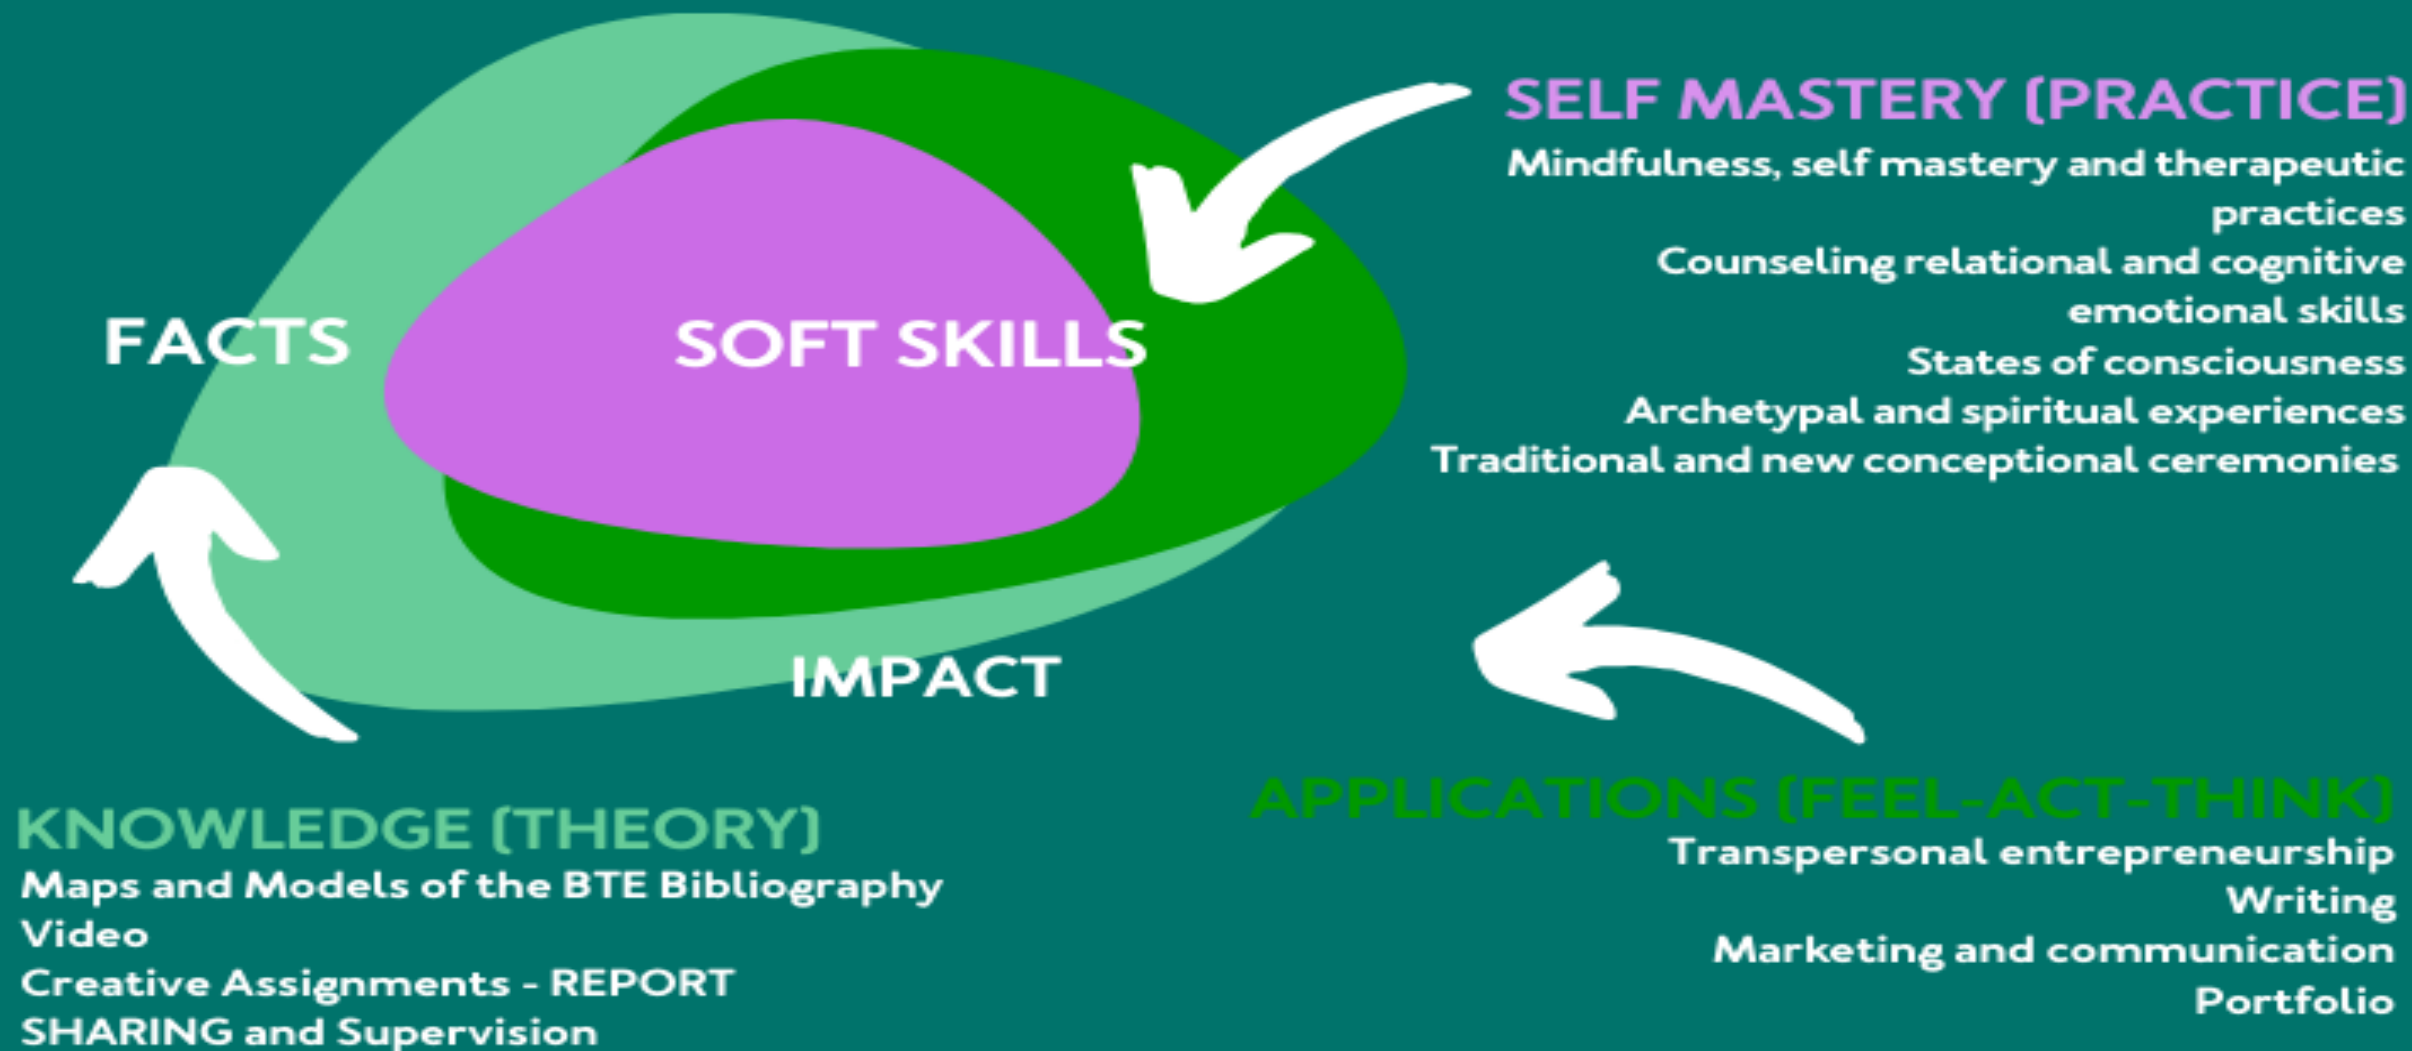

ITCS is designed for "young people" at heart who know they come from afar and that they have a present and a future as protagonists, innovators, and creatives. They can be the pioneers of a new culture of sharing, which is capable of transcending and including dualisms, as well as the differences and conflicts of the wider system that includes them.

A Further Mode:

The separation between theory and practice, between mind and body, between action and feeling, between male and female, between past and future, between matter and consciousness, traditional and scientific, academic and experiential, is overcome in a transformative didactic methodology, a Further Mode that teaches how to "make two into one".

The profession of Transpersonal Counseling

Boundaries of Transpersonal Counseling

Objective listening

To help the client to "confess"

To help the client understand and honour their nature

To assist the client on their journey towards the realization of their creative and psycho-spiritual potentials

To provide contexts that help to "dissolve" the problems towards a new vision of oneself, of others and of the world

The Transpersonal Counselor's profession (Italian regulation)

The law on "unregulated professions" (Law January 14, 2013, n. 4) was published in the Official Gazette of January 26, 2013, n. 22.

The statute of "unregulated professions" enters into force on the 10th of February, 2013.

Learning Outcomes Summary

Achievements

Specific Subjects

BTE Methodology I, II, III, IV

Psychodynamics of the transformation process; The true nature of the healing relationship; Maps, models and methods for a journey of Self-Realisation; new perspectives in the humanistic and transpersonal approach: essential traits, historical roots, interpretative and intervention models; keys of awareness in BTE; clinical methodology, psycho-spiritual experiential practices; maps and models, eight pillars of transformation; matrices and positions; archetypal constellations. Clinical methodology, psycho-spiritual experiential practices, matrices and positions, The Integral Model: The Seven Dualisms, matrices and positions, psychotranse and psychotranse II. Clinical methodology, psycho-spiritual experiential practices. Essential lines of Biotransenergetics. Epigenetics and inner healing, guidelines for a verbal approach in BTE. Clinical methodology, psycho-spiritual experiential practices.

Olosomatic Principles

Within the problem there is the solution, within the disease there is potentiality, within the discomfort lies the resource. Understanding the meaning of physical discomfort to facilitate transformation. Every disturbance or disease can be understood in its meaning and in the message it carries in itself. This will help to heal. Thus, the forces of self-healing are within us and we can stimulate them to (en)act. The system of the body, the energetic body, emotions, mind, and soul.
